Art of the Month

Beads! Beads play an important role both artistically and culturally. In the past, beads were created and worn to show off one's status or wealth as well as being used for trade. We will create beads of our own out of various materials; clay, paper mache, noodles, paper, wood and fimo to practice our small motor skills and display our sense of self-expression.

Science of the Month

Spring clean-up and Planting! Spring Equinox is just around the corner and the Earth is slowly coming closer to the Sun. With the lengthening days and so much rain the garden is alive after it's winter slumber. We will plant fava beans to regenerate our soil with life giving nitrogen.

INDIGENES MONTH!

March is Indigenes Month at Little Arrows where we leave our studies of civilization and return to the Earth- what we know, and how to instinctively live in the rhythms of our natural world. We will study our local tribes; Miwok, Pomo, and Coastanoans. How do they work and play?

Let's adorn ourselves with paint made with natural elements, cook with native vegetables such as corn, pumpkin and squash, and create a loom to expand our knowledge of weaving, webs, and interconnection. We will choose native names, spirit animals, and read and learn from many legends. Circle, drum, and song! We will work with clay remembering that it combines Earth, Air, Fire and Water.
